SCOUTS TO SHOVEL SNOW AS GOOD TURN

Today We Add to Sale of Furniture

All BELMAISON reproductions of fine old period furniture-every piece in the House and on the Fourth Gallery reduced in price at least 10 per cent.

It was not our intention to include the BELMAI SON reproductions in the February Sale of Furniture. This was so stated. And the reason for it was that BELMAISON type of furniture is so difficult to procure in sufficient quantity to meet the demand. It is made for us-faithful reproductions of the best work of old master craftsmen by today's master workmen of America. Reproductions, not only of line, but of that good workmanship which made the old pieces famous. BUT-excluding BELMAISON furniture has led to some confusion in the mind of the public. They took it for granted that ALL the home furniture in the New Building was reduced and included in the February Therefore, beginning Today, we mark the hundreds of Belmaison reproductions at a lower price-and include them in the February Sale PLEASE NOTE-The antique pieces of furniture in BELMAISON are not included in the Sale.

BELMAISON reproductions include chairs, tables, benches, lounges, cabinets, beds, desks, secretaries-all pieces that go to make up the perfect home. The following list is merely indicative of 'ne character and range of the reproductions-

Two William and Mary arm chairs, backs and seats upholstered and covered with needlepoint; now $720 each. One Elizabethan table with twisted legs; now $224. Two very fine reproductions of altar tables from Stamford, England, with legs formed of groups of four turned balusters; now $180. Set of three very fine Chippendale arm chairs: now $184. One oak Tudor table with drop leaves;

now $94.50. One very fine table, reproduction from Davanzati Palace, Italy : now $427. One very fine table, reproduction from

A Shipment of Fine French Antique Furniture

Among Which Are Several Signed Pieces, Has Newly Arrived, Au Quatrieme

A new shipment of antiques which were bought abroad last summer, but which have only now arrived Au Quatrieme, contains many rare and difficult to procure pieces. Furniture that is distinguished by many small marks of fineness that lovers of antique will recognize and which is, in many cases, signed by famous cabinet-makers.

The Collection Includes

A fine small Louis XVI. desk, with a drop front that closes to make a charming cabinet, rather the shape of a tall commode, and equipped with a beautiful old marble top. This piece is veneered with amaranth and rosewood to form a fine herringboned surface. Signed "Lapie."

A demi-lune Louis XVI. commode has the original old marble top and is made with two corner cupboards. The old brasses on this are finely beaded; the handles, with their round plate sunk into the wood, are characteristic of the period.

There are several frames of fine old chairs in this shipment which will interest the connoisseur, even in their present unfinished condition. These include a pair of signed Directoire bergeres, a Louis XV, arm chair signed "Gourdain," the frames of a fine Regence chair, a big oak peasant chair of the Directoire period, and a Henry II, chair.

Small Tables

of the Louis XV., XVI, and the Regence periods are also part of this new collection. There are almost minutely fine occasional tables of walnut made with small sliding drawers, and in some cases with the original old marble top.
